

TOWARDS A MORE INCLUSIVE TOMORROW

2-Day National Tribal Seminar on Inclusivity & Empowerment- A National Platform for Tribal Voices

Oleevia Foundation, in association with St. Mary's College, Thrissur, organized a two-day National Tribal Seminar on Tribal Inclusivity and Empowerment, creating a powerful platform for dialogue, learning, and advocacy. The seminar brought together academicians, policymakers, social leaders, development practitioners, and students, united by a shared commitment to restore dignity, opportunity, and justice to India's indigenous communities.

Leadership That Inspires Collective Action

The seminar was inaugurated by Oleevia Group CMD Shri Krishnakumar K T, whose address emphasized Oleevia's long-standing commitment to tribal development. Padma Shri Cheruvayil Raman, the Chief Guest, inspired the gathering with profound insights on culture, identity, and resilience. Oleevia Foundation CEO Shri Ajitkumar Varma felicitated the gathering, reaffirming the Foundation's resolve to champion inclusive growth and social equity.

Advancing Mental Health and Holistic Well-being

A key dimension of the seminar was the participation of NIMHANS, which led critical discussions on the mental health challenges faced by tribal individuals. The sessions highlighted trauma, social exclusion, substance dependency, and access barriers, advocating culturally sensitive, community-based mental health models.

A Call for Unity and Global Commitment

Following the inauguration, Shri Krishnakumar K T delivered a compelling session on tribal inclusivity and administered a Unity Oath, pledging continued support for tribal development across the globe. The oath resonated deeply, symbolizing collective responsibility, solidarity, and unwavering dedication. This powerful moment transformed the seminar into a shared moral commitment.

From Dialogue to Transformational Action

The seminar concluded with renewed energy, clarity of purpose, and actionable pathways for collaborative intervention. It reinforced Oleevia Foundation's role as a catalyst for systemic change, fostering partnerships between academia, healthcare, governance, and civil society. The collective resolve emerging from this platform will guide future programs, policies, and projects, ensuring sustainable, inclusive development for tribal communities.
