

A MILESTONE IN HEALTH EQUITY: SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF THE EARLY CANCER DETECTION CAMP FOR TRANSGENDER PEOPLE IN PALAKKAD

On 17th July 2024, the Oleevia Foundation proudly conducted a highly successful Early Cancer Detection Camp in association with Rajiv Youth Foundation dedicated to the transgender community of Palakkad. This initiative marks a significant step towards health equity and inclusivity, which we aim under Project Nairujya Bharat and reinforcing our commitment to providing essential health services to Transgender populations under Project Ardhanaari.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE EVENT

- Comprehensive Cancer Screenings: Over 20 members of the transgender and transmen community participated in the camp, receiving comprehensive cancer screenings. The focus was on early detection of various types of cancer.
- Expert Medical Team: In addition to screenings, the camp featured educational sessions on cancer prevention, early signs and symptoms, and the importance of regular health check-ups.
- Community Engagement: The camp received overwhelming support from local community leaders and organizations. Their involvement was crucial in mobilizing participants.
- Follow-Up and Support: Participants who required further medical attention were provided with referrals to hospitals and clinics for follow-up care.

IMPACT AND FUTURE PLANS

The success of this camp underscores the importance of targeted health interventions for marginalized communities. By addressing the unique health needs of the transgender community in Palakkad, we have taken a significant step towards promoting health equity and inclusivity.

Moving forward, the Oleevia Foundation plans to organize similar camps across different regions, focusing on various underserved communities. Our goal is to make healthcare accessible to all, ensuring that no one is left behind.

Thank you for your continued support.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We extend our deepest gratitude to our medical partners, sponsors, volunteers, and the local community for their unwavering support.
